A BEAUTIFUL INCIDENT.

William IV., expired about midnight, if we remember aright, at Windsor Palace. The Archbishop of Canterbury, with other peers and high functionaries of the kingdom, were in attendance. As soon as the "sceptre had departed" with the last breath of the king, the Archbishop quitted Windsor Castle, and made his way with all possible speed, to Kensington Palace, the residence at the time of the Princess—already by the law of succession—Queen Victoria. He arrived long before daylight, announced himself and requested an immediate interview with the Princess. She hastily attired herself, and met the venerable prelate in her ante-room. He informed her of the death of William and formally announced to her that she was, in law and right, successor to the deceased monarch. "The sovereignty of the most powerful nation of the earth lay at the feet of a girl of eighteen." She was the pure queen of the only realm, in fact or history, "on which the sun never set." She was deeply agitated at the "formidable" words, so fraught with blessing or calamity. "The first words she was able to utter were these, 'I ask your prayers in my behalf.'"

LAMBERT'S OPINION OF WOMEN.

Woman, with weaker passions than man, is superior to him in soul. The Gauls attributed to her an additional sense, the divine sense. They were right. Nature has given women two painful Heavenly gifts which distinguish them, and often raise them above human nature—compassion and enthusiasm. By compassion they devote themselves; by enthusiasm they exalt themselves. What more does heroism require? They have more heart and more imagination than men. Enthusiasm from intuition, and self sacrifice from the heart. Women are, therefore, more naturally heroic than men. All nations have in their annals some of those miracles of patriotism of which woman is the instrument in the hands of God. When all is desperate in a national cause we need not despair while there remains a spark of resistance in a woman's heart, whether she is called Judith, Celia, Joan of Arc, Victoria Colonna in Italy, or Charlotte Corday, who sacrificed herself, but the sacrifice did not recoil to her crime. Their inspiration was heroic, but their heroism mistook its aim; it took the poignard of the assassin instead of the sword of the hero. Joan of Arc used only the sword of defence; she was not merely inspired by heroism; she was inspired by God.

BONNETS.—There is no striking novelty in bonnets to be chronicled this month. The fashion shape appears to be a general favorite, and much called for. The standing front, with its diadem of flowers, and a crown worn upon the top of the head, is not decidedly becoming to any but a pretty face. Soft white felt bonnets, tastefully trimmed, are pretty, and not very expensive. A beautiful royal velvet is trimmed with lace of the same shade, and satin daisies glittering with tiny dewdrops. A new device in millinery is to have flowers with their leaves and tendrils so arranged upon the bonnet that they can be removed and worn upon the hair. This is only for those whom necessity forces to practice economy, and cannot well purchase a new coiffure for each evening's entertainment.

The round hats are small, with a narrow brim, or none at all, and decorated with willow plumes or velvet bands.

Flowers are fashionable for decorating the hair, and are also worn upon the neck and arms. A set comprises head-dress, necklace and bracelets.

POULTRY.—A young turkey has a smooth leg and a soft bill, and if fresh the eyes will be bright and the feet moist. Old turkeys have sooty, stiff feet. Young fowls have a tender skin, smooth legs and the breast bone yields readily to the pressure of the finger. The best are those that have yellow legs. The feet and legs of the old fowl look as if they had seen hard service in the world. Young ducks feel tender under the wing and the web is transparent. The best are thick and hard on the breast. Young geese have yellow bills, and the feet are yellow and supple; the skin may be easily broken by the head of a pin; the breast is plump and the fat white. An old goose is unfit for the human stomach. —New Haven Courier.

Several shocks of an earthquake were felt in Nevada on Wednesday last. The first was accompanied by a rumbling sound, resembling a distant thunder.

Joseph Bonaparte's old country seat at Bordentown, N. J., has been sold to a millman for $12,000.

A Catholic cathedral is to be built in London, second only to St. Peter's at Rome.

The subscriber has just returned from the Eastern markets, where he has spent the past two months in selecting and purchasing one of the largest and best stocks of Goods ever offered for sale in Alexandria, and he intends to sell at prices lower than the same articles can be bought this side of the city of New York. The attention of country merchants and the trade generally, is called to his extensive stock of Bores and Snooks for Ladies' Misses and Children, Boys' and Men. Also, his assortment of READY-MADE CLOTHING and FURNISHING GOODS, which is unsurpassed in this market, all of which having been bought at great bargains will be sold at figures far below current prices. In order to accommodate his wholesale business he has rented a large warehouse, in which will be found the largest and finest stock very often in Alexandria.

POULTERER'S FRIEND.
A CERTAIN CURE FOR GAPES AND OTHER DISEASES IN CHICKENS AND TURKEYS.
A Certain Preventive of Chickens Cholera. Will prevent disease in all kinds of fowl, and promote an increase of fat. Read the following:
Jefferson, Frederick Co., Md.,
July 22d, 1867.
Messrs. Clotworthy & Co.:
Gents—The wonderful cures which have been made by your Poultryer's Friend cannot fail to interest all who raise poultry. A gentleman of this village has been experimenting on chickens with the gapes. He tried your Poultryer's Friend, according to the directions, and it had the desired effect in removing the worm, effectually relieving the chicken at once. Since then I have had many calls for it, and it has been used extensively with the same result. It is of incalculable value to all who raise poultry. Respectfully,
A. SPENCER.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC.
Without making a useless harangue, I will say to my friends and the public that I am now prepared to supply all of their wants in the way of STOVES. It is time lost to undertake to look for anything better than can be found in my store. I have something new in the way of HEATING STOVES, which cannot be surpassed in style, or beauty of design. To one and all I will say that whatever I sell I warrant to answer the purpose I sold it for. I therefore invite my country friends to call and examine my stock of COOKING and HEATING STOVES before purchasing elsewhere, confident that they will not go away displeased. I would also enumerate amongst my stock a fine lot of TIN WARE, of my own manufacture, and made by very experienced workmen; also, TINNED SAFES, PRESERVING KETTLES, Fruit Cans, Fine Japanned and Plated Ware and Chamber Sets, to which I would call the attention of the public. Coffee Urns, Tea Urns, Waffle Irons, Children's Toys, and a fine lot of Block Tin Ware and other articles which are too numerous to mention.
